HOW WILL THE MENTAL HEALTH PARITY ACT IMPACT ME?

The Mental Health Parity Bill (HB 1013) was successfully passed in March 2022 with bipartisan support. In response to this bill, insurance companies must treat mental health and substance abuse disorders in the same way they treat physical health conditions. In simple terms, it's about making sure people get fair access to mental health care through their insurance, without facing discrimination or higher costs compared to physical health care. Patients can no longer be denied medically necessary treatment for mental health conditions.

In order to understand individual health plans, each consumer should review their Summary of Benefits and Coverage (SBC) and the Summary Plan Description (SPD) written in each plan.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU AREN'T RECEIVING THE INSURANCE COVERAGE YOU NEED:

Step 1: Call Your Insurance Company.

- Gather your insurance documents and the denial letter or bill for mental health treatment. Request a letter of support from your mental health provider outlining the necessity of the care. Call the number on your insurance ID card to initiate the appeal process, be sure to record the call for documentation purposes.

Step 2: File a Complaint.

- If you have health insurance through your employer, family member, or if you've chosen your insurance independently, file a complaint via the Georgia Department of Insurance's online consumer complaints portal.
- For those with insurance through Medicaid, PeachCare for Kids, or the State Health Benefit Plan, use the Georgia Department of Community Health's online mental health parity complaint form to file your complaint.

The state is responsible for the monitoring and enforcing of parity for private insurance plans, including individual, marketplace, small business, and large employer plans that are not self-funded. Note that large, self-funded corporate ERISA plans are regulated by the US Department of Labor (See <https://www.dol.gov/agencies/ebsa/laws-and-regulations/laws/mental-health-and-substance-use-disorder-parity>.) Also note that federal parity law does not apply to Medicare.*
